International Economic Law – extra on-line classes

Two extra on-line classes for the course of International Economic Law are held via Microsoft Teams on. They will deal with the last topics of the program that could not be covered as usual due to the health emergency. The agenda is the following:

- 8 April 2020 (16.30-18.15): Trade in services and IMF;
- 15 April 2020(16.30-18.15): EU economic and monetary union and the ESM.

They will not be traditional lectures. Students are kindly invited to read and study the materials posted for the above-mentioned topics on the Ariel website of the course. During the on-line classes, they will have the opportunity to ask clearly defined questions on issues that have not been properly understood or that require some further explanation.

To attend these on-line classes, students are invited to activate Microsoft Teams on the devices, following the instructions published on https://www.unimi.it/en/study/student-services/technology-and-online-services/microsoft-office-365-education.

On the date of the classes, they are invited to connect to the following URL:
